

Xi'an: 5G Remote Medical Application Starts in Xi'an High-tech Zone

June 19 - Xi'an International Medical Center created the first 5G remote B-ultrasound consultation test in northwest China. More than 100 industry experts from all over the country attending the China Healthcare Information Technology and Big Data Application Exchange Conference witnessed the initiation, marking Xi'an's 5G medical application technology the first to be used in northwest China, which means that northwest China has entered a new era of 5G smart medicine.

---

Suzhou: "China-Japan Innovation Valley" to Integrate Manufacturing, R&D and Headquarters

Recently, Suzhou China-Japan Innovation Valley project was officially released. It will build three industry function areas including China-Japan intelligent manufacturing industrial park, China-Japan technical exchange platform, Japanese enterprise area plus a high-end supporting service area according to the "industry + carrier + supporting" planning layout. The area aims to create a specialized and high-end Japanese-funded community that integrates manufacturing, R&D and headquarters.

---

Fuzhou: Accelerate "Digital Fuzhou" construction and cultivate new kinetic energy for industrial development

Fuzhou City will build "Digital Fuzhou" as one of the key areas and main direction of industrial development. It will promote digital technology to empower the real economy, drive high-quality development and do well in integrating development and demonstration applications. The Municipal Committee for Big Data plans to launch a collection of excellent cases of big data application, carry out in-depth mutual communication activities of big data and the real economy, support the traditional industry to apply the new generation of information technology to promote digital transformation, create a number of pilot projects and demonstration projects.

---

Jinan: International Technology Transfer Manager Workshop Launched

July 2 – Jinan Science and Technology Innovation Center and Jinan Technology Service Industry Union co-hosted the first Jinan International Technology Transfer Manager workshop. To better facilitate technology transfer within the industry, 50+ attendees from universities, research institutes, and technology transfer agencies joined the lectures.

---

Dalian: China Incubator Innovation and Development Summit & New Material Industry Incubation Community

July 5 - The China Incubator Innovation and Development Summit was delivered in Dalian, with attendees representing 200+ incubators and joint creative centers, as well as 600+ corporations, investment banking, private equity, venture capital, and the academia. During the Summit, World Intelligent Incubation Network, Ningbo Joint Academy of New Material, and 15 other incubators in the areas of new materials announced the foundation of the New Material Industry Incubation Community, releasing a manual that calls for connecting the new material industry with a broader business society and together build a better ecosystem.

---

CISIP Homepage | Membership Registration

About

The Community of International Science-Industry Parks is an initiative of China Great Wall Enterprise Institute to create a professional and practical platform for the world's science-industry parks (SIPs) to share expertise and join efforts. As a non-governmental, non-profit organization, the CISIP follows the core values of professionalism, inclusiveness, and independence, indicating its openness to freewill and fee-free participation from around the world with no more criteria to filter membership other than professionalism.

Community of International Science-Industry Parks

2nd Floor East Block, Beijing International Convention Center, No.8 Beichen East Rd, Chaoyang District, Beijing, China, 100101

Phone: +86 10 82000975

You're receiving this email because you signed up to receive our newsletter.

Not interested anymore? Please reply to unsubscribe..